

USING WHERE AND HOW WE LIVE TO GROW HEARTS AND MINDS, ONE CHILD AT A TIME.

- Nurturing school environment and culture of mutual respect based on the Responsive Classroom approach to social and emotional development.
- Variety of teaching methods recognizing diverse learning and expressive styles.
- Guided reflection on learning experiences for interactive, authentic assessment of student work.
- Standalone and multi-age classroom groupings promoting collaboration and interdependence.
- Hands-on, relevant learning experiences to create strong connections between subject areas and deepen understanding.
- Flexible-paced learning and academic differentiation responding to individual student achievement and ability rather than chronological age.
- Inclusive learning environments where students of all abilities are members of a classroom community supporting the needs of each student.
